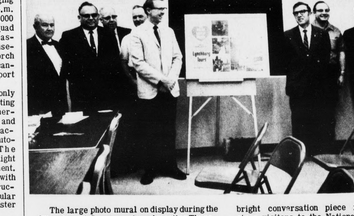
Public Service Corporation Assessments, Taxes Are Up



The large photo mural on display during the Chamber of Commerce board meeting Thursday evening is "ready to hang" in any business establishment in the area wishing to help with area tour promotions. Appomattox is motor Tour Number 4 in a group of six designated with a large red heart. The well known Gulfhaume painting of Lee and Grant appears on the upper left corner of the full-color wall mural and will provide a business place, restaurant or motel a bright conversation piece from which to steer visitors to the National Park here or any other of the designated points of interest in this area. Discussing the tour promotion Thursday were (from left) : T. De-Witt Evans, Chamber treasurer; Francis Elliott, Eugene Carson, Carter Martin, Roy Moon, president; Dr. A. A. Fratrick, Jim Beaty, Park Supt. Al Rector and Chamber vice president J. S. Grinels.

Year Increase In Valuation Is $184,463

The property of the 10 public service corporations in Appomattox County has been assessed at $6,258,876 for purposed of local taxation, according to records of Commissioner of Revenue John Curtis Caldwell.

That represents an increase of $184,463 over the year before.

On this assessed value the rail, telephone, electric power, pipeline, transportation and communication corporations will pay $187,766.28 in taxes in Appomattox County for 1969. The county's tax levy of $5.00 per $100 valuation applies equally to these corporations as it does to real estate.

Transco Biggest

Transcontinental Gas Pipeline Corporation, with property assessed at $3,788,452 is the largest of the public service corporations in Appomattox County. Its 1969 bill in county taxes will be $113,653. Transco holdings in Appomattox are part of a $34,441,097 valuation in the Commonwealth of Va.

Following Transco in value of property and equipment here are Norfolk and Western, Railway with $757,475, including property valuations within the towns of Appomattox and Pamplin. Tax bill will be $22,724.25.

Also, Colonial Pipeline Corporation with valuation of $471,-423 and a tax bill of $14,146.69. First Colony Telephone Co., all districts $237,426 plus Appomattox, Natural Bridge, Wilderness, College Tour, Lexington Tour and Smith Mountain Dam Tour. In addition, president Moon reported, a new inner-city tour of Lynchburg is being prepared.

Each visiting motorist, by following maps on a brochure handed him, can make his choice of places to visit. The Appomattox Tour includes a trip to Patrick Henry's home, Red Hill, as well as the National Park here.

The photo-mural, now on display at Farmers Bank, Main Street, was set up last week at Fidelity National Bank. Any business place may ask for the mural, and accompanying brochures describing the motor trips are available.

Christmas Promotion

Jim Beaty was asked to have a committee meeting of business places, asking their opinion of "Santa Claus" appearing here at Christmas time, rotating among several locations in order to keep shoppers in Appomattox, rather than driving to some other town for the children's annual talk with "Santa".

The Board of Directors also voted to request the Dept. of Commerce, to inquire into the feasibility of maintaining a Weather Bureau station in Lynchburg 24 hours a day.

It is not on a 24 hour schedule at this time. A resolution to this effect has been prepared by the Lynchburg Chamber of Commerce with a copy sent to Appomattox for examination asking the Chamber's support in notifying the Dept. of Commerce, U. S. Senators and representatives.

The Board was told that the fiscal year ended Sept. 30, with membership renewals and the annual public meeting next items for consideration.

Plans Underway For Annual Chamber Of Commerce Meeting

A speaker for the annual meeting—tour promotion—and "Santa Claus"—these and many other items crowded the agenda of the Board of Directors, Appomattox Chamber of Commerce, meeting Thursday, Sept. 25, at the District Extension office, Main Street.

Plans are in the making for the third annual public meeting of the Chamber of Commerce to be held late in October. New board members will be elected at that time, and a speaker will be invited, according to J. S. Grinels, vice president, who is assisting with plans for the meeting.

Tour Promotion

Businessmen, motel owners, restaurant managers and others now have an additional aid to their effort to promote travel and tourism in Appomattox. The aid is a large photo-mural depicting one of the six motor tours suggested to visitors: Appomattox, Natural Bridge, Wilderness, College Tour, Lexington Tour and Smith Mountain Dam Tour. In addition, president Moon reported, a new inner-city tour of Lynchburg is being prepared.

Each visiting motorist, by following maps on a brochure handed him, can make his choice of places to visit. The Appomattox Tour includes a trip to Patrick Henry's home, Red Hill, as well as the National Park here.

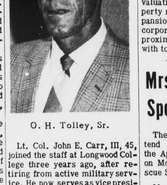
Tolley, Carr Elected Directors At Bank



O. H. Tolley, Sr.

O. Hunter Tolley, Sr., Pamplin businessman, and John E. Carr, III, Longwood College vice president, were elected to the board of directors of the First National Bank of Farmville Wednesday afternoon. They were elected to fill the vacancies created by the death of R. E. Garland and the resignation of C. H. Pritchard.

R. Bruce Spencer, bank president said the two new board members would bring the board of directors to its full complement of 14 members.

Tolley, 47, operates Tolley's Esso Station, Tolley's Fuel Oil Company, as well as Tolley's liquid fertilizer service and Cub Creek Hereford farm. Associated with him in business is his son, O. H. Tolley, Jr.

He is a member and trustee of Piney Ridge Methodist Church, and a long time member of the Masonic Lodge. He was elected to the board of supervisors of Appomattox County two years ago, and serves on the welfare board and the Community Mental Health Services board of Central Virginia.

He is a veteran of three years' service during World War II, with the Fifth Marine Division in the Pacific area.

He and his wife, the former Miss Edith Jane Mann, of West Virginia, have three children, O. H. Tolley, Jr., of Pamplin; Miss Joyce Gail Tolley, of Chartottesville, and Miss Mary Elizabeth Tolley, who is teaching at Greenbriar College, W. Va.

Carr is a native of Richmond. He received his B.S. degree from The Citadel and his master of business administration degree from Syracuse University. He also attended an Army specialize training program in civil engineering at the University of Cincinnati, and the U. S. Army Command and General Staff College.

Lt. Col. John E. Carr, III, 45, joined the staff at Longwood College three years ago, after retiring from active military service. He now serves as vice president for administration. He is a member of the Farmville Lions Club and Farmville Chamber of Commerce.

Carr is a native of Richmond. He received his B.S. degree from The Citadel and his master of business administration degree from Syracuse University. He also attended an Army specialize training program in civil engineering at the University of Cincinnati, and the U. S. Army Command and General Staff College.

Mrs. Battle Will Speak Monday

The public is invited to attend the regular meeting of the Appomattox Woman's Club on Monday evening at the Rescue Squad Building.

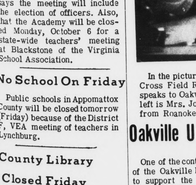
Mrs. William C. Battle, wife of the Democratic nominee for Governor will speak to the group at 8 o'clock, afterwhich she will meet with those in attendance, and answer inquiries concerning her husband's candidacy, according to Mrs. R. David Jones, Chairman of the Legislative and Public Affairs Committee.

A short business meeting of the Club will be held at 7:30 with Mrs. Charles Hill, presiding.

Save-A-Life Cylinders Now In Appomattox

They're called "Save-A-Life", and well named according to the Rescue Squad. What are they? They're cylinders of oxygen, ready at a moment's notice for someone having breathing difficulties.

More than twenty Rescue Squad members and other qualified persons have these cylinders at their homes. Readers are urged to clip out this Save-A-Life list so that they can have on hand immediately, the name and address of a nearby person equipped, and know-how to help out in an emergency.



Oakville Urges 149 Donors To Keep Up Appomattox Quota

One of the continuing projects of the Oakville Ruritan Club is to support the American Red Cross Bloodmobile visits to Appomattox. At the September meeting Mr. Jeff Jones, American Red Cross Field Representative, presented the program. Mr. Jones is Field Representative for an area comprising approximately 900,000 people including citizens of Appomattox and surrounding counties. The region according to Mr. Jones, annually requires upwards of 35,000 pints of blood for the services of the Blood Bank as well as related research activities. (Oakville Ruritan members were surprise to learn the Red Cross spends a million dollars per year on research relevant to blood use.) Also surprising was the knowledge that only about two percent of the people in our region participate in the blood program.

Also in attendance at the September meeting of Oakville Ruritans was Mrs. Benjamin Harvey. Mrs. Harvey along with Mrs. Robert Carter are co-chairmen for the Red Cross Bloodmobile program sponsored locally by the Appomattox Jr. Woman's Club. The most recent visit by the Red Cross Bloodmobile to Appomattox was a huge success as the drive had a quota of 107 pints, but only obtained 54 pints. Mrs. Harvey indicated the next visit of the Bloodmobile will be October 28th. Due to the inadequate response in July, the October quota is now 149 pints for the Appomattox Chapter. It is highly desirable for our chapter to meet its quota. Failure to reach over 95% of quota for the fiscal year will result in the chapter being placed on probation. A very practical disadvantage resulting from such probationary status occurs when a citizen of
